Landmark "Green Chemistry" legislation (AB1879 and SB509) was passed by the California Legislature and signed into law in September 2008. These laws were aimed at significantly reducing adverse health and environmental impacts of chemicals in commerce by focusing on "priority consumer products" containing identified "chemicals of concern". The Calif. DTSC has spent four years attempting to develop regulations to implement the legislation. The Safer Consumer Products regulation, formally proposed by DTSC on 7/27/12, is the latest move toward final adoption of this controversial regulation. Our speaker for this forum is John Ulrich, Executive Director of the Chemical Industry Council of CA and co-chair of the Green Chemistry Alliance. Mr. Ulrich will present an overview of the regulation, and the steps being taken by GCA in support of a science and risk based approach.
